This social media will form an interactive and effective motivation and communication process for marketing communications, namely Word of Mouth which arises naturally from the opinion of the social environment which is felt to be more honest and there are no particular motives in conveying information to other consumers.

Currently, the majority of Facebook users are women, which is a strong reason to develop an online shop business for business people in cyberspace created by Mark Zuckerberg. The majority of users are 18-24 years old, indicating that they are of mature age and have sufficient funds to meet their own needs, this is one of the considerations for continuing to exist in the online buying and selling business. However, there are many young housewives and other people in the community who want to find work, but do not leave their duties and responsibilities as housewives at home, due to their strong desire to do business. The development is certainly felt by the public, especially housewives who want to order household equipment without having to leave the house and go to the market, just by ordering via the social media Facebook you can buy the items you want, of course this provides convenience for buyers and profits for sellers.
